He was of medium height, siender, smooth-faced and with light gray eyes, and a certain something in his manner that denoted a culture, even redhement.

Turner must have had the record of every Union officer present, yet he went over all again, and while he saked the now very familiar questions as to state. Turner—williakel George" the men in prison called him, went through all our pockets and very few bundles. The

As he fed me through the crowd he introduced me to other spectral figures, any two of whom might invo passed for twins. These figures asked me for the latest news from the front, and all were easily the spirit of an immediate exchange, and, seving that I could give them no eucouragement, they turned sadly wavy.

If loward led me into a room to the east, which he explained was the "lower middle" or "Lower Chickamauya Room"—the long apartments taking their names from the armics or battles in which most of the olifers were captured. The two upper rooms to the east were known as "the Upper and Lower Potmae." We went up another flight of steps and directly under the ratters we reached the "Upper Chickamauyas," where it loward "hung out," and where I found many old friends, all looking so changed and bearing themselves so bravely that it was only with an effort I could keep back my tears. Howard gave me some corn hread, "iron-clad" they called it; it was heavy

The reveiters in the Upper Foromae room are hushed, and the singers are silent.

The reveiter is the control of the theorem of the period of the period of the monant like one in a fewer'sh bloop. I wonder how men can sleep in such a place, and conclude that if forced to remain I must die of insomnia.

I listen, and along the ranks, packed so close together that it is a surpriso how one can turn without forcing the other to imitate him, I hear snoring in every key, deep hass snoring in that seems to come up from the depths, and shrill more than the room.

The wind, blowing straight through the rooms from the north, has turned the iron bars on the windows into hoarse wollan harps. There is the never-ceasing tramping of guards outside, and every hiaff hour the cry of "All's well," rings round the building. I hear the challenges as the reliefs come on. Not a sound escapes up during that hour all rose feeling were from sympathy with the painful coughing I had heard all about me, since the slights went out.

QUESTION. What is the organization known as the Farmers Alliance and Industrial Union?

dustrial Union?

ANSWER. It is a labor organization having for its object the protection and advancement of the interests of the agriculturists of the United States.

Q. Where, when and by whom was the first permanent Alliance formed?

A. At Poolville, Parker county, Tex.,
July 28th, 1879, by W. T. Baggett.
Q. What is the history of the growth of the Order during the early period of its existence?
A. Like all great reform movements,

A. Like an great reform movements, its progress was slow and not until the year 1885 did it assume an importance to attract much attention.

Q. What seemed to be the causes which led to the organization of the Alliance?

A false system of economic laws A. A false system or commic laws which enforced upon the farmer the ne-cessity of debt trade, and forced sales of the products of his labor. Q. In what way did the Alllance seek to remedy this evil?

seek to remedy this evil?

A. During the early period of its existence, its principal efforts were directed against the middle man. If sought to save the enormous profits which the speculator made, by introducing a system of direct trade with the manufacturer.

ing a system of direct trade with the manufacturer.
Q. Did it succeed in this?
A. Only partially.
Q. What was the cause of this par-tial failure? A. Their inability to abolish debt trade—a lack of means with which to purchase, for cash, such things as were necessary while making their crops. Q. In case of failure what were they compelled to do?

Fall back upon the merchant and purchase goods on time.

Q. What did they finally conclude was the cause of their inability to rails the cash with which to purchase their supplies?

Q. What are the primary causes of this insufficiency of currency?

A. There are several causes:

1. At the close of the war we had a volume of paper currency of nearly two twelve hundred millions of this was converted into long time interest-bearing bonds and retired from circulation.

In 1873 silver was demonetized and 2. since that time only partially restored as a circulating medium.

Q. What effect does a searcity of money have on the price of property and the products of labor?

A. As money is a necessity of civility and the products of labor?

A. As money is a necessity of civility and the search of the supply is not equal to the constituence of the supply and demand. When money is scarce and the supply is not equal to the demand, it becomes more valuable and those who labor are compelled to part with more of the products of their labor to obtain a dollar, than they would if money was plenty.

Q. In what way does the Alliance seek relief from the evils resulting from a scarcity of money?

A. By increasing the circulating medium—the money—of the country to such an extent that an equitable relation will be established between the value of money and the products of labor, and that there will be a sufficient amount in circulation to transact the business of the country on a cash basis, thus abolishing debt trade.

Wall street and New England have dictated the policy of the last Congress they ever will. Their power is broken and their sceptre has departed. The fact is rapidly coming to light that all this difficulty over the Force bill was an effort to defeat free coinage. In view of this can any one doubt the "power of money to oppress?" press?

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE FARMERS AND LABORERS' UNION OF KENTUCKY: Brethren: In June, 1887, when the State Alliance was organized at Each we had 49 who Alliances these County Allia had 42 sub-Alliances, three County Alli ances and an estimated membership of 600. We were without funds, and almost without friends. Many of the best far-1000. We were without funds, and almost without friends. Many of the best farmers in the State looked on the Alliance as a visionary scheme of some designing persons to forward their own personal ends. They consequently stood aloof, and refused to enter the organization, not knowing the intention of the Alliance.

The undersigned, accompanied by Bro. J. E. Quicksall, who had been elected President of the State Alliance, water on Mr. Speucer Cooper, editor of the HAZEL GREEN HERALD, who kindly HAZEL GREEN HERALD, who kindly gave us an Alliance department in his paper, and promised us any assistance in his power. By this means the order was brought prominently before the farmers of Eastern Kentucky. The result was that in the twelve months following the Alliance had increased from 42 subordidate and three country organizations, to 15 County and 365 subordinate Lodges, and increased in membership from 600 to nearly 5,000. We today have 88 county and 2,400 sub-Unions in Kentucky, and an approximate membership the country of the coun tucky, and an approximate membership of 100,000, and new Unions are being organized at the rate of ten a week.

Mr. Cooper has again offered us a department in The Herald, and in assum ing control of it we do so with a full realization of our inability to do justice to it, and shall be largely dependent on the brethren of the various Unions to furnish the news, correspondence, &c. for this department.

SPENCER COOPER, - - - Editor

HAZEL CREEN, KY.: April 24, 1891.

HON. M. C. ALFORD, OF FAYETTE COUNTY,
Subject to action of the Democratic Party.

The gubernatorial nomination is conce. ded to Mr. Brown if we are to judge from the tone of the State press. There are not a dozen papers but endorse his candidacy in clarion notes that ath the soul of all Democrats, and in turn the masses are shouting loud and long for him. His championship of the people's cause in every crisis has convinced the chivalric sons of this proud old Commonwealth that he has not an equal to espouse their cause in any contest. The knights of olden times never listed among their number a more gallant or invlucible lance than John Young Brown when onfidence they have in him assures the lance than John Young Brown when he throws down his glove to take up the people's cause, and never did a vizor cover a countenance that beams with such joy as his when he wins the poor clitical's fight against the rich corporation. His whole life has been spent in the magnaniuous prosecution of monopolies whenever the poor man was wronged, and the only fee he would receive was the friendship of the poor souls he had rescued from the rich, which he prizes more than gold. Once while he was in Congress a poor man whom he knew became lavolved in a civil suit which threatened to ruin shim. Mr. Brown cume home, to ruin hlm. Mr. Brown came home, took the case, and saved his client from the clutches of the capitalist who was trying to crush him, and did all the work without any charge whatever. He has always been on the side of right as sawaya been on the side of right as against might, and in all candor we ask if as much can be said of the other can-didates? Fellow-citizens, your course is clear, and if you make a mistake do not blame us with it.

The Farmers Alliance and Laborers will reverberate through the hills and hollows of this beloved section, and find sweetly chorusing voices in every com-munity in this grand old Commonwealth. Even if the Alliance never succeeds in accomplishing anything else, should they perfect the free school system in Eastern Kentucky, and sepecially in the moun-tains, they will have accomplished a most noble work. Thousauds of children now growing up and thousands yet unborn will bless the Order for the stand it has will bless the Order for the stand it has taken in this matter, and as their worthy work materializes happy homes in the mountains will everywhere echo and recebo the piaudit, "Well done, good and faithful servanta." The free school system is the bulwark of American liberty and independence, the foundation rock of future greatments for generations to come after us, and it should be freely foretred without fear or favor by avery feroment. without fear or favor by every freeman. Every man whose heart holds the milk of human kindness for his fellow man coincides in the course of the F. & L. U. coincides in the course of the F. & L. U. in this matter, and every nun should cooperate in the cause they espouse. We herewith reproduce the resolution above referred to, and recommend that all good citizens emulate the example it sets forth: "It is our indispensable duty to renovate and restore to the highest point the common school system in the Tenth Congressional district of Kentucky, it being the greatest power within our control to protect us against ignorance, immorality and vice."

Ther will be but one more issue of The Herald before the Democratic county conventions are held, and it is important that every Democrat who can do so should attend. That every county in Easters Kentucky will support Judge Swango in his race for Register of the Land Office is pretty generally understood, and this being the case, it looks like it would be the proper thing for the county conventions in this section to instruct for him. He has made a thorough cauvas of the State and developed such streight in every section of it, that a solid support from Eastern Keutucky will probably give him the nomination on the first balot. Let every Democrat but do his duty by him, and our candidate is sure the the next Register of the Land Office. wili be but one more Issue

Hon. M. C. Alford being the only can-didate for Lientenant Governor, the presumption is that all the county con-ventions in the State will instruct for him.

The friends of the free school system in this State should everywhere rally to the support of Col. John O. Hodges for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

That he is more sincerely devoted to the common school interests of Kentucky than any man today within her borders, is a truth absolutely undenlable. His life work has been devoted to their development, and he holds that the free schools should have eyery good citizen's support—first, hast and all the time. No other interest can come between him and the free school—no amount of money or other interest can come between him and the free school—no amount of money or patronage can divert his devotion from It—and it does seem that such a cham-pion for the common weal should have the unanimous support of the people.

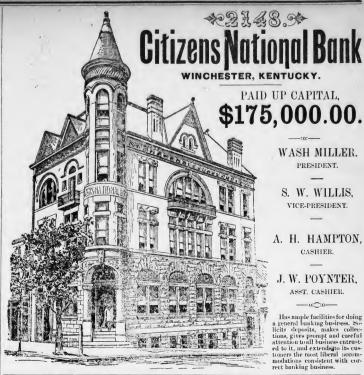

From present indications Hon. M. C. Alford will be the only candidate for the Alford will be the only candidate for the title gloud and long for him. His contained for the people's cause in yerlash has convinced the chivalrel to this proud old Commonwealth he has not an equal to espouse their elin any contest. The kulghts of n times never listed among their ber a more gallant or invincible every interest in the past, and the ber a more gallant or invincible every interest in the past, and the confidence they have in him assences the ethan John Young Brown when

From the Hustler of last week we learn that the Jackson Academy has been bought by the Central University of Kentucky. This school was founded by the faithful lakors of Rev. J. J. Dickey, the present efficient editor of the Hustler, but owing to the failure of Mr. Dodge to contribute as much as he promised, the Academy company was unable to make payment in fall for the building. While on account of this Mr. Dickey was prevented from carrying out his original plan, yet the people of Eastern Kentucky owe him an unending debt of gratitude for his untiring work in establishing this school at a central in establishing this school at a central point from which education will be dif-fused among the mountains. The Uni-versity will develop the Academy as versity will develop the Academy as rapidly us possible into a college, giving the regular course and granting degrees. The work of improving the grounds and building will begin this spring, a board-ing hall will be added and the school will open under the University in September next.

Democratic Mass Convention.

Pursuant to a call of the Executive Democratic Committee of the State of Democratic Committee of the State of Kentucky, the Democrats of Wolfe covnty will meet In mass convention at the court house in Campton, at 2 coleck P. M., May the 2nd, 1891, for the pur-pose of selecting delegates to represent Wolfe county in the State convention to be held at Louisville on the 13th day of May, 1891, to nominate caudidates for the various State offices to be voted for at the August election, 1891. All Dem-ocrats of the county are specially reat the August election, 1891. All Democrats of the county are specially requested to be present, as this is au important election and the will of the masses of the Democracy of the State should be expressed in the County conventions and adhered to and fairly represented by delegates in the State course ventions and adhered to and furly rep-resented by delegates in the State con-vention, that when nominations are made peace and harmony may prevail and the nominees receive the full purty vote in August. Democrats, look well to your own interests.

JOSEPH C. LYKINS.

An Inspiration for Young Me

Western Kentucky has a candidate in the person of Hon. John Young Brown, who is as gallant a knight as ever jousted a lance in a political tournament. He would make a Governor in whom the interest of the whole people would be safe and would hour and dignify the high office. He is making a remarkable canvass of the State, making speeches that rival in excellence any that have been delivered by the nation's statesmen. His course in life is an inspiration to every young man who is seeking a name and place in the estimation of his countrymen and a proud position in the State. ed a lance in a political tournament. He and place in the estimation or his coun-trymen and a proud position in the State. He is emineutly qualified to adorn any position in American public life, and it is becoming generally conceded that he will out distance all of his competitors and will occupy the chair of State for the ensuing four years.—Calhoon Cour

Mr. Clay's Mistake.
Mr. Clay has allowed himself to make the mistake of discussing a subject upon Mr. Clay has allowed humselt to make the mistake of discussing a subject upon which he is thoroughly ignorant. He claims that Dr. Clardy is supporting the rallroad propositions voted upon in November, 1888, in Christian country, was taking sides against the people and in favor of monopoly. If Mr. Clay had taken the pains to inform himself, he would have found that the propositions were fought long and ficredly by the most powerful monopoly in the country and that the people were trying to secure competition to relieve themselves of turndens imposed by a discriminating corporation. It is well for the Blue Grass candidate that Dr. Clardy was not present when lie exposed this vuluerable point. He would not have left enough of Mr. Clay to build a dirt dauber's nest.—Hopklasville Kentuckian.

Our friend Breck Hill writes us from Beattyville that his private business in matters will prevent him from making the trace for State Senator. This we very much regret, for he certainly would have market.

Breeders should not forget that the Breeders should not forget that the triumphal trio of tretting stailions ls to be found at Ashiand Park stock farm, near Lexington, Ky., each of the three being a klug in royal blook. Some farmer's complain that they are too far away, but that will not hold good, as every one knows there can be no excellence without inbor. And, even if it is a little trouble, the expense may be so lessened by a half dozen farmers clubbing together that none of them will feel it. It will not pay, of course, to send common mares not pay, of course, to send common mares so far from home to breed, but if farmers will send the good ones they will reap a rich reward from the produce. It is just as cheap to raise a $500 colt as a $50 one, and altogether more satisfactory when a man comes to count his income after he makes a saie. Write to Mr. Treacy and get particulars.

The Lexington Transcript wants the K. U. road to run summer excursions to Torrent station in this county. It says to the managers of that road: "About sixty-five miles up your road there is one of the greatest tunnels in the State. sixty-five miles up your road there is one of the greatest tunnels in the State. Within two hundred yards is a waterfail a hundred and fifty feet high. The surroundings are wild and weird. There are cuves that mastodons could crawi into. The flora is not surpassed in the State. Give some cheap excursions and picnics there. No charge for this."

Complaint comes to us that the post masters at White Oak and Jackson, res pectively, are in the habit of loaning out of The Heald mailed to regular sub-scribers at those offices, and that often subscribers thus fail to receive their subscripers this tail to receive their papers at all. Now, the postoffice have are very stringent with regard to this, and, if the postmasters have done as charged, we hope they may do so no more forever. That we mail the papers referred to is a fact most positive.

T. F. Carr, the little jeweler of Ezei paid our office a pleasant call Tuesday and settled for a big list of subscribers He also inserted a handsome advertise-ment which will be found elsewhere, and ment which will be found eisewhere, and incidentally informed us that he has a corner on school books, which he is selling at less prices than anyholdy. For instance, he sells for $1.10 a book that costs students $1.40 eisewhere. Give him a trial when you need books, clocks, watches, or anything of the kind.

Dr. J. F. Lockhart, the dentist who has his headquarters at the residence of A. II. Pieratt, is turning out some very handsome work. No dentist who ever visited this section has had such scien-tific appliances for furthering his protinc appliances for furthering his pro-fession, and certainly none ever carried a more complete stock of first-class dental materials. Dr. Lockhart will remain here only a short time, and those needing dental work of any kind should avail of the present opportunity to see him.

Eugene Busby, who has been in ing the Hazel Green cornet band for the past four weeks, has signed a contract as band leader of the C. L. Phillips' spe-cialty combination, and will leave here Sunday moraing for Mt. Sterling, where he wili spend a few days with his family before assuming his new duties. Mr. Busby is a first-class musician, a gentle-man withal, and his many friends here wish him abundant success in his new field of labor.

MR. CLAY'S RECORD.

A Moldenberg Farmer Sifts Dr. Clardy's Charges and Find Them Folly Waranted.

Your reades are greatly interested in the record of some of those asking political favors at the hands of the farmers of Kentucky.

I notice in the daily papers that Dr. Clardy in his speech at Russellville charged that Mr. Clay was a gold bug with a big B., and that while in the legislature he voted against reducing the ten per cent, interest law to six per cent, and while in the Senate he voted against rating banks and similar corporations as and white in the Senate he voted against taxing banks and similar corporations as other property is taxed and even did likewise in the present Constitutional Convention—saying furthermore that Mr. Clay had never failed to vote in the interests of the capitalists as against the farmers and laboring classes and that Mr. Clay's record would show it. I have had some curiosity to know if these charges could be true. I could not see how Mr. Clay would have the face to ask the farmers of this State to vote for him if these charges were true. I have House Journal of 1878 and 1874, pages 379, 388, 397 and 414, which show that he voted to keep up the high rate.

Now, as to Mr. Clay's record on the bank tax question, I simply refer you to the Senate Journal of 1885 and 1886, page 1805, which will show that he voted against taxing banks and like corporations on the same basis that other property is taxed. Furthermore, in the Constitutional Convention no longer than last January, Mr. Clay again voted to stitutional Convention no longer than last January, Mr. Clay again voted to exempt banks from their just proportion of taxes in common with other property. I have also discovered, in looking through the Senate Journal of 1835 and 1886, that Mr. Clay voted against the present exemption law. From a period extending from February 20, 1885 to May 13, this question was frequently before the Senate, the enemies of the poor people making every effort to choke it off, and the record shows that Mr. Clay voted with them every time; the last vote was 19 to 4, Mr. Clay being one of the 4. From this evidence and record it occurs to me that Mr. Clay is making the race for Governor on the wong ticket. He ought to be asking the nomination at the hands of the Republican party. For twenty-five years the Demo ination at the hauds of the Republican party. For tweuty-five years the Demo cratic party has charged that all the legislation of the country, so far as con-troiled by the Republican party, whether in the State or National Legislature, has in the State or National Legislature, has been in the interests of the taxpaying poor people. I have learned to believe that that charge is true and rest my Democratel togalty and my opposition to Republicanism upon this fact. The whole aim of the Republican party has been to enrich the rich and impoverish the poor. They have done this by demonetizing silver, exempting Government bonds from taxes, and favoring National banks. They have enacted high interest laws and have failed to enact laws to promote the farming or laboring iaws to promote the farming or laboring iaws to promote the tarming or laboring classes of the country.

Now it seems from the record above that Mr. Clay's views upon questions of public interest have been in direct harmony with principles of that party. It seems to me that he is the last man who hims the right to expect the poor tax bur-dened farmers of Kentucky to support him for office. I don't see how any struggling farmer like myself, who knows what a battle it is, oppressed as we are, to make both ends meet—can look at to make both ends meet—can look at this matter otherwise, and I think your readers should know what manner of man this is, who is hoping to ride into office on the farmers' vote.—"Muhlen-berg," in Farmers Home Journal.

Must Keep Out of Pollitics.

The Laruc County Hemild recently published a letter from Hon, T. T. Gardner, President of the Farmers and Laborer Union, in which that gentleman inas the following about politics in the Order: "This will be a hard year on our Order. I am afraid I will have to wrest some of their charters for violating the law by holding conventions and nominating candidates for office. Why they will persist in doing this in the very face of the law I can not tell. If we persist In doing these things, and are not willing to be governed by the laws, we will have no basis to stand upon, and will be sociated to the four winds of the earth, and simply be tools for our enemies. We are not organized yet, nor educated. We are like an army of raw recruits, and not fit to make battle against an organized enemy. Should we attempt it before we are properly drilled, we will be so demornized that we will never be able to make a successful fight."

charges could be true.

how Mr. Clay would have the face ask the farmers of this State to vote for him if these charges were true. I have therefore taken the pains to look up the proof in this matter.

As to Mr. Clay being a gold bug I have no means of ascertaining, but I have heard that prior to his candidacy for Governor he was strictly a gold money man and that his preent-speches in favor of silver coinage are diametrically opposite to the views he was so recently known to express. But as to Mr. Clay's vote in the House against the reduction of the interest from 10 to 6 per cent. Dr. Clardy seems to be well fortified in making the charge. If there he any who doubt this I simply refer them to the House Journal of 1873 and 1874, pages 379, 388, 397 and 414, which show that he voted to keep up the high rate.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 17, 1891. Secretary Tracy has had a copy of the following, adopted by the Federation of Labor, placed in his hands, and has referred it to Commodore Folger:

"Whereas, It has come to the knowledge of the Federation of Labor that two forcings areas (News).

"Whereas, The employment of allens by the Government of the United States in the navy yards and other branches of the public service in preference to its own citizens, many of whom are vainly own citizens, many of whom are vainly seeking employment, is contrary to the professed policy of 'protection to Amer-ican labor,' and is in the opinion of this body a flagrant violation of the spirit of the contract labor law, and in the case of Olseu and Jansen, a violation of the letter of said law; therefore be it to be filled; and that the Secretary of the Treasury be respectfully requested to order an investigation of the circum-stances attending the employment of said Olsen and Jansen in the Washing ton navy yard for the purpose of ascer taining whether or not the contract labor law has been violated by their employ-ment."

Secretary Foster is in New York, but he is expected back tomorrow or Mon-day, and his attention will be immediately called to this matter, which has awakeased great interest among the working-men, and I am told that if the Secretary refuses to act the matter will be brought to the attention of Congress by Senator Peffer.

Mr. Blaine has finished and delivered to Marquis Imperiali, who was left in charge of the Italian legation by Baron Fava, the reply of the United States to the last dispatch of the Italian govern-ment. It is a very long and elaborate document, but its import is practically document, but its import is practically the same as that of the answer to Barou Fava's original demand. This country concedes nothing, and will not interfere with the administration of justice by the regularly constituted authorities of a State, but if it can be proven that any of the men lynched were Italian citzless, which has net yet been done, it will consider the payment of an Indemuity to their families or heirs. As soon as he had put a copy of his letter in the hands of the representative of Italy Mr. Blaine of the representative of Italy Mr. Blaine left town for several days, presumably to escape being questioned by the news-

Secretary Tracy's private brand of re-form, which appears to be a mighty good thing, is to be given an immediate trial thing, is to be given an immediate trial in two navy yards—at New York and at Norfolk, he having issued an order detaining all positions of foremen and master mechanics at the first named yard vacant June 1, and at the last July 1, and convening a board of naval office to meet at the first place May 11 and at the last June 3, for the purpose of exam-lning applicants for the vacancies, the examinations to refer exclusively to the requirements of the positions to be filled. The experiment will be watched with literest, both by the people who wish to see politics entirely eliminated from our navy yards and by the politiciaus who do not.
